Mosque of Cordoba

Began to be built as a mosque in 785, which was found in its place by Muslim conquerors. It was the second largest mosque in the world on the surface.

In 1238, after the Christian reconquest of the city, its consecration as a cathedral of the diocese was carried out. It was forbidden any collective worship or non-Catholic organized prayer.

The screenshot shows a presentation software window titled "cadiz.odp". The interface includes a menu bar with options like "Archivo", "Editar", "Ver", "Insertar", "Diapositiva", "Formato", "Disponer", "Herramientas", "Tabla", "Ayuda", and a status bar indicating the last modification. A toolbar with various icons is visible below the menu. On the left, a slide navigation pane shows five slides, with the first slide selected. The main slide area displays a slide titled "CÁDIZ" featuring a photograph of the city's coastal buildings and a stone breakwater. Below the slide, there is a text box that says "Haz clic para añadir las notas del orador".
