

Poema Diamante

A large diamond shape (rhombus) is centered on the page. Inside the diamond, there are seven horizontal lines of varying lengths, arranged symmetrically from top to bottom. The lines are: 1. A single line near the top vertex. 2. Two lines below it, separated by a comma. 3. Three lines below that, separated by commas. 4. Four lines below that, separated by commas. 5. Three lines below that, separated by commas. 6. Two lines below that, separated by a comma. 7. A single line near the bottom vertex.