

BOOK SPINE POEMS BY STUDENTS

*Romeo and Juliet were a couple.
They died both and all for love
In a tangled web.
They had great expectations,
But they died in a
Night without end*

*A little princess
Can choose between love or money.
If she chooses money, she has got the coldest heart on earth
And she remembers Miranda, under the moon*

*Don't look now,
Go abroad around the world in eighty days,
Go for gold
Of the first Emperor of China
And run until you are far from the madding crowd*

*Jump to freedom,
Don't look now.
The mummy,
The black cat and
The other stories.
Another world*

*The murderer of Mary Jones
Is a ghost in love
In the nights without end.*

*Crime never pays
What Romeo and Juliet did,
And it was all for love*

*There are great expectations with robots,
But they have a tangled web inside them,
So they can't work right*

*The ghost of the eyes,
Like a golden person,
Commits a crime,
He is the murderer of Mary Jones
In the night without end.*

*The curse of the mummy Kidnapped is similar to
The legend of Sleepy Hollow and the Tales from Longpuddle. They talk about Deep troubles with
The blue diamond*

*The real McCoy found
The blue diamond when he was putting on
The wrong trousers. He got scared from
The Great Fire of London, that was A close shave*

*Dracula and
The three Musketeers started
The drive to Dubai to make a journey
Around the world in eighty days.
The turn of the screw began when they came across
The tempest.
They found out that they were in Deep trouble*

Romeo and Juliet

Have great expectations

With a ghost in love, and they commit a crime,

But crime never pays,

When the murderer of Mary Jones appears

Crime never pays in

The night without end, but some day

The murder of Mary Jones appears and

A tangled web will start

Romeo and Juliet's love make

Great expectations, but one day

The eye of childhood became

A tangled web
